bus / foot

Most bus services terminate in Dublin City Centre. Visit www.dublinbus.ie for route details and termini of bus routes. It is about a 15 minute walk from O'Connell Bridge to Coleraine House. The most direct route is to walk in westbound along the quays of the River Liffey to the Four Courts on Inns Quay. Then walk northbound along Church Street following the directions below.

If you are arriving by train at either Heuston or Connolly train station, or you are anywhere along the Luas (Red Line) take the tram to the Four Courts stop on Chancery Street. For more information on routes and timetables visit www.luas.ie

Alight at the Four Courts stop and depending on whether you are coming from Heuston (Tallaght) or Connolly train Station walk west along Chancery Street towards Bridewell Garda Station (a sky blue building). At this stage the Bridewell should be on your right and the Four Courts building on your left. Turn right at the Bridewell Garda Station onto Church Street, walk northbound along this street through 5 sets of traffic Lights, this is about a 7 minute walk.

On Church Street you will pass the Capuchin Church (St. Michan's) on your left and then at the main junction with North King Street there is a Londis shop on your right. Continue along Church Street North. You should have a large block of flats on your right. Coleraine House is passed this block of flats on the right. Coleraine House is the granite stoned building on the right hand side with the Red Door. The entrance is through the archway to the right of the red door.

Just ask the Taxi driver for the Coleraine House on Coleraine Street. If the taxi driver is unsure where to go tell him or her it is on the city side of Kings Inn on Constitution Hill. Coleraine House is the Georgian building on the right hand side of Kings Inn with the red door. The entrance is through the archway to the right of the red door.

car / motorbike

If you have to come by car or motorbike things are a little more difficult with one way streets and pay and display parking (not required for motorbikes). The easiest access is to travel along the North Quays and turn off at Arran Quay / Four Courts (Junction 22) and drive northbound on Church Street through six sets of traffic lights to just past junction 28. You will pass the Capuchin Church (St. Michan's) on your left and then a Londis shop on your right at the junction with North King Street.

Nearly all parking around here is pay and display. At this stage you should be on Constitution Hill with the flats on your right and the Hardwick House Apartment block on your left. Stay in the overtaking lane and take the first turn right past the flats (at this stage you'll see Coleraine House, an old Georgian building with a red Door on your right). Turn right here you should find parking in some of the streets. There are a number of pay and display machines on the streets.
